The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, September 9 1703.

From the Rotterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 13.

BY Letters from Vienna of the 1ſt of this Month 'tis advis'd, that a Reſolution was taken at Court to proclaim the Arch-Duke Charles King of Spain on the 8th, and that three days after he would ſet out from thence for the Hague; He will take his way through Prague, Dreſden, Lipſick, and the Territories of Brunſwick. The Emperor has nominated the Generals Uhlefelt and Ogilvi to accompany the Arch-Duke, and has order'd them to make Preparations accordingly. They write from Eſperies in Hungary, that a conſiderable Number of the Rebels having paſs'd the Tibiſcus, had divided themſelves into 2 Bodies, one is march'd towards Onot, the other towards Uhl. They attack'd the Caſtle of Unguar, but were repuls'd.

Ausburg, Sept. 6. 'On the 4th the Elector of Bavaria having caus'd 4000 of his Men to advance 'within a League of this Place, General Arco who 'commanded them ſent hither to demand that one 'of our Gates and another Poſt might be deliver'd 'up to him that he might be ſecure of this City, 'giving us but an hour's time to determine what to 'anſwer. Thereupon our Regents aſſembled in 'Council, and it was reſolv'd not to yield to this 'Demand; which Reſolution was ſignified to General Arco, the Regents acquainting him at the 'ſame time, that they hoped his Electoral Highneſs 'would not be diſpleas'd at this Reſolution. Mean 'time the 4000 Bavarians were ſo alarm'd by the 'Huſſars all Night, that they were oblig'd to retire 'to a greater diſtance. The Prince of Baden had 'ſent to inform our Governour that he was coming 'with 30000 Men to protect us from any Attempts 'of the Enemy; and yeſterday the Imperial Army 'arriv'd in our Neighbourhood. That of the Enemies was advanc'd within half a League of this 'City, but at the Approach of the other drew off.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

From the Imperial Army at Rotweiler, Sept. 6. On the 4th the Count de Friſe march'd from Landau with 5 Battallions, 3 Mortars, and 4 Pieces of Cannon, and encamp'd that Evening at Weiſſenburg, from whence he ſent Monſieur Looz a Collonel of Huſſars with 5 Squadrons to block up the French Garriſon of Biſweiler within a League and an half of this Place. At the ſame time he detach'd 2 Captains of Foot with 100 Men each to take Poſt in the Caſtles of Harten and Niederroden. On the 5th the Detachment under Collonel Looz was reinforc'd by the Regiment of Dragoons of Vehlen. Collonel Looz has ſent hither one of the Enemies Lieutenants and a Dragoon, taken by his Troops near Biſweiler, who tell us that the Garriſon conſiſts of 120 Men commanded bv 3 Captains, and their Orders are to defend themſelves to the laſt Extremity. This Morning we reciv'd Intelligence, that the Bridge which is laying over the Rhine near Druſenhim is not ready yet, but would be finiſh'd this Evening or tomorrow Morning, and then the Count of Naſſau Weilburg will paſs over and joyn us with great part of the Body of Troops he commands. The Enemy has quitted the Town of Biſweiler and retir'd into the Caſtle; whereupon the Count de Friſe has order'd 100 Men to take poſt in the Town. 400 French Horſe came to day to Hochfeelden to obſerve our March. A Body of 3000 of the Enemies which is poſted on the Canal of Strasburg, is order'd to retire into that City if we advance further; and to leave ſeveral thouſand Peaſants, who are provided with Arms for that purpoſe, to defend that Canal.

Upper Buhl, Sept. 7. The Enemy before Briſac have not fir'd upon it for 2 days paſt. The Bridge of Boats over the Rhine near Stolhoffen between Fort Louis and Kehl, will be quite finiſh'd tomorrow. The Foot will paſs over it to day, and the Horſe tomorrow. Mean time a Detachment from Landau has taken Biſweiler and made the Garriſon Priſoners of War.

From the Upper Rhine, Sept. 7. Some Letters from the Danube ſay, that the French and Bavarians had beſieg'd Ausburg; and that Prince Lewis of Baden had thrown 6000 Men into that City; and afterwards march'd (being joyn'd with the Body under General Heiſter) directly towards Munich. The Marqueſs de Blainville, who laſt Year defended Keyſerſwaert, is made Governour of Ulm. The Forces that lye before Rothemberg are reinforc'd with 2000 Franconians; and 'tis expected that Place will very quickly be oblig'd to Surrender.

Nurenberg, Sept. 7. The Poſt from Ausburg is not arriv'd; the Advices from Swabia are various; the moſt credible are of the 5th from Ulm, which ſay, that Prince Lewis of Baden made a ſhow as if he deſign'd to attack Memmingen, but it was but a feinte, for he turn'd off to Ausburg and put 6000 Men into that City; after which he joyn'd General Heiſter, and march'd into Bavaria. Some ſay all the Enemy's Troops both French and Bavarians are in Motion. The 10000 French that were advanc'd to Ulm have rejoyn'd their Army.

From the Harlem Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Heilbron, Sept. 8. Of the Army of Count Stirum (which conſiſts of 37 Squadrons and 31 Battallions, with 36 Pieces of Cannon,) part is march'd towards Geyſlingen, to make head againſt the Marſhal de Tallard in caſe he ſhould attempt to break through the Black Forreſt. Two days ago the French took 80 of our Bread Waggons between Nordlingen and Bilmerſhoffen. The Electreſs of Bavaria is brought to Bed of a Son. Prince Lewis of Baden has made himſelf Maſter of all the Paſſes on the Iller without any reſiſtance; and having batter'd Memmingen for 2 days it ſurrender'd to him. The French have drawn their Camp into a narrower Compaſs, and fortified it with tripple Retrenchments.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Frankfort, Sept. 9. Memmingen is recover'd again from the Enemy, and Ausburg reinforc'd by the Prince of Baden with 6000 Men. Which has mightily alarm'd the French, who are in no little Perplexity how to retire from the Danube. Prince Lewis of Baden has ſent a Detachmeut to reinforce the Peaſants of Tyrol and to march to Munich.

Frankfort, Sept. 9. The Margravine of Baden has receiv'd an Expreſs at Aſchaffenburgh from the Prince

Prince her Husband, that he has paſs'd the Ill and the Lech with 30 Battallions and 50 Squadrons, and is arriv'd near Ausburg; and that the French and Bavarians are marching towards him. Here is a report, that the Marſhal de Vauban is ſhot dead before Briſac. A great Body of Troops of the Allies is gone over the Rhine into Alſatia to make a Diverſion.

From the Harlem Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Frankfort, Sept. 9. They write from the Briſgau, that the Enemy carries on the Siege of Briſac very vigorouſly: but that the Garriſon is reſolv'd to defend it to the laſt Extremity; they have already made ſome Sallies with good Succeſs. The Enemies Soldiers deſert in Companies of 50 or 60 together to Friburg, the Garriſon of which Place very much incommodes the Enemy. The Cannon of the Beſieged have ruin'd one of the Enemies Batteries.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Sept. 13.

Liege, Sept. 8. This Morning the Artillery that was employ'd againſt Huy, was brought hither down the River, convoy'd by a Detachment of Foot and Dragoons; The Treaſurer General Monſieur Hop is likewiſe arriv'd to give neceſſary Orders about the Train, &c. that is to be ſent to the Siege of Limburg.

Liege, Sept. 9. This Morning 3000 Horſe, commanded by Lieutenant General Buleau and Major General Hompes, paſs'd the Maes at Jupille, in order to inveſt Limburg to day. The Baron de Trogne who is to have the Direction of that Siege, went from hence thither this Morning with 5 Regiments of Dragoons, deſigning to be before that Place between 1 and 2 a Clock. The Artillery will be landed with all expedition, and ſent thither under the Convoy of the Regiment of Dragoons of Matta and 2 Regiments of Foot. Tomorrow 10 or 12 Battallions of the Army will arrive here, and will likewiſe be employ'd in this Siege. The Baron de Trogne has Orders to Summon the Place, and to aſſure the Governour the Count de Renacq, that if he waits till the Artillery is planted againſt the Town, he muſt not expect to be allow'd to capitulate. Mean time that Governour threatens to make a vigorous Defence. His Garriſon conſiſts of 2 Battallions and a Detachment of 300 Men. The Train of Artillery deſign'd at preſent to be made uſe of againſt Limburg, conſiſts of 20 Cannon and 10 Mortars.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Sept. 15.

Liege, Sept. 11. This Morning 2 Battallions more march'd from hence for Limburg, and to mmorrow 40 Cannon and 12 Mortars will be ſent thither. The Detachment of 12 Battallions which is coming from the Hamp at St. Tron to go to that Siege will arrive here to morrow. Mean time we are inform'd that the Place is in a better State of Defence than was believ'd, and that it will take up ſome time to carry the Artillery through ſo rough and hilly a Country, as alſo that the Ground round the Place is bad for raiſing Batteries.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Sept. 13.

Axel, Sept. 9. We hear from Sluys in Flanders, that they had Advice there from good Hands, that his Catholick Majeſty deſigns to ſend for all his own Troops both Spaniards and Flemmings in the Netherlands to defend Spain; and leave the Netherlands to the Care of the French. They tell us likewiſe, that the Elector of Bavaria is dead, tho' it be kept ſecret.

Hague, Sept. 11. 'Tis ſaid the States have nominated Lieutenant General Fagel to go General of the Forces that are to be ſent to Portugal. The Equipages of the Arch-Duke of Auſtria, and of the Noblemen that attend him to Portugal, are getting ready with all expedition, that they may be finiſh'd by the end of this Month.

Hague, Sept. 13, 'Tis ſaid the States have appointed the Regiments of Fagel, Freiſheim, Dohna, Weelderen, Laffey, and a Regiment of Dragoons without Horſes, to go to Portugal, which Regiments are to be fill'd up with their whole Compliment of Men before they embark. Some Letters from St. Tron tell us, that the French made a ſhew as if with part of their Army they would have attack'd the Detachment that was ſent from our Army to beſiege Limburg, but did not think fit to venture upon them. They give out that Briſac is taken, but it is not believ'd, becauſe the ſeveral Advices from the Upper Rhine ſay nothing of it.
